“ Mr Moore was such an amazing mentor to so many. I don't think he realized just how much he touched his students lives. He is the reason why I joined the military and proudly served my country and why I chose the medical profession. My condolences to his family. He always spoke so highly of his children. God bless you all.

“ I have extremely fond memories of Mr. Moore. He was a great teacher and mentor to a bunch of high school students who occasionally thought they knew better. You will be missed, Mr. Moore.

“ My sincerest condolences to the family and to our community for the loss of Harold Moore. I was a biology student of Mr. Moore's in the 1980-1981 school year and he also took the time to help me with my chemistry work the following year. He was always one of my favorite teachers not only because he was a really good teacher, but he really cared about his students. Years later, I would run into him from time to time and though it wasn't often that I'd see him, we'd always have a really nice talk and get caught up on life. Unfortunately, I hadn't seen him for quite some time as of late. Thank you, Mr. Moore, for the fun times in your class and for being the kind of man your students could look up to. I will always have great respect for you. I'm glad our paths crossed while you were with us. -- Mike Meadows, PHHS '84

“ When I first came to Pendleton Heights, Harold was one of the "old guard" who, in his own way, took me under his wing, showing me both guidance and kindness. Rest in peace, sir.

“ This man was one of my rocks in high school. From the moment I met him in my biology class as a freshman, I knew that I had found a trust in him that would be forever. We had opportunities to laugh & cry together over the years in school. Just a few of my favorite stories from him:

I was in home economics my freshman year & you could invite someone to join you for your food tasting if they had an open period/study hall. This was the man I invited...he laughed until he was almost in tears over the extra tbsp of salt that was once added instead of a tsp. He found out rather quick when he tried the cinnamon bits from the extra crust.

Another story, in his Anatomy & Physiology class, we had to spin in a chair for an experiment to see what way your eyes moved and my best friend continued to not be able to tell. On my 3rd or 4th spin I passed out. When I hit the floor I woke up real fast with my front teeth looking like a carved jack o' lantern and Mr Moore running to me & ended up on the floor holding me as I started to cry. I began spitting what I thought was my pieces of teeth into his hand. When I told him that he simply said sweetie those are not your teeth! I looked into his hand, it was the candy cane I had been chewing on , the teeth pieces obviously I had swallowed. He helped me to the nurse so I could call my parents. It broke both our hearts just a bit, but over the years we laughed about the candy cane.

The last story, my senior year, I had pushed to get a biology 2 class in place and arrived an hour before school started to take it. Mr Ashburn dealing with health issues had to be out most of the semester and I struggled with getting the Salivary glands of something that I can not remember to add to a slide. I was one of the last in my class to do it and I came into the science lab any opportunity that I had & this man was always by my side. He would offer suggestions, words of encouragement, and just conversations.

Even though our paths crossed less after I graduated, I knew that the impact he had in my life would be forever.

I will miss you, Missster Moore. (In a voice that he often would just smile and shake his head over)

Thanks for being so special to me.

“ I knew the Moore family when I was a young 6 year old girl. I lived in the Wetzel farm house next door to the Moore's. Mrs. Moore was a teacher at Markleville, but her two boys would come over to the farm with their pony and give me a ride on the pony. It was a true act of kindness that I will never forget. It was a special time in my life. Thank you so much for reaching out.

“ I had Mr. Moore for Biology class as many others did. He was a great teacher, and also a compassionate one. When it came to dissecting the baby pig, I could not do it, so I skipped class on those days. He must have understood how much it bothered me, and he still passed me. Years later, he became my Angel here on earth. I was in a horrible car accident, rushing to work, on a bad country road. I had hit a telephone, cracked it into three sections, then went on to hit two trees. Mr. Moore came upon the accident, rushed to call 911, then returned to my car to do what he could to keep me alive til the ambulance got there. Even after their arrival, he stayed with me, as they cut me out of my car. I was unconscious the whole time. When they towed my car in, the first thing they all said was who died in this one. Mr. Moore is the reason I survived that accident, I know this without doubt. I have often wondered about where he was, hoping that somehow I could thank him for being there for me. After learning of his passing, I have gone back to that time 36 years ago and am reminded of how grateful I am for his coming upon my accident and staying with me the way he did. I have cried since learning of his passing knowing I never got to thank him, so I'm hoping he somehow knows how much he means to me. THANK YOU MR. MOORE. You will never be forgotten. RIH

“ I don't remember many of my junior high teachers, but I had Mr. Moore for Science in 7th grade at Madison Heights Junior High in 1959-60. He was a great teacher and I still remember a test question I missed. I'm really sorry for your loss.

“ Mr. Moore launched my journey into the pursuit of scientific knowledge. He and his wife visited Randy and I during one of their cross country trips in the early 1990's. I enjoyed getting recipes from him, he was an excellent Chemist which also made him a marvelous cook! To Mr. Moore, I say "Well Done", and "We will miss you, until we are once again united with all of God's children".
