“ My dad, the strongest man I will ever know, the only man I will ever truly love. The man I am today is a direct result of the leadership and love from my dad. My effort and hard work in life was to gain and keep his pride and respect. I only hope that he will continue to lead me through life and help me with the decisions I largely relied on him for. I know in time this deep hole of grief will fill but he will live in my heart forever. I will miss talking with you dad, I will miss asking you questions that no else has the answers too, I will miss your goofy humor, your smile, your company, your love, I will miss you dad. Everything I am and everything I do is because of you. Thank you for the man you were and thank you for the man you made me. I love you dad. Your Loving Son, James
