“ I was saddened to find the news of Roy's death when I tried to look up his phone number. There is no higher tribute I could give to a man than in my praise of Roy and his life. Unfortunately, due to his advanced age, many who knew him when he was younger are probably gone or infirmed themselves. Yet in his life, Roy was the epitome of the 'greatest generation. I got to know him when he was the Scoutmaster of Troop 344 in Reading, PA from 1968-1970 when I was a Boy Scout. We used to meet at the First Church of God on Hampden Boulevard in Reading. This man set the example for all of us working class youths on what scouting really was about. His life was a testament to what a Christian man should be. Roy was a devoted Christian and he had a unique evangelical spirit about him. Both Roy and his wife Mae are sorely missed.
