“ Patty, Gerry, Adam, Alex and Family....thinking of you all this evening as you begin to process the events of the past few days. Aaron's memorial service was very meaningful - the thoughts that were shared about Aaron brought peace to my mind. I cherish the many family memories shared and Aaron will always be in a special place in my heart. God's blessings to you all.... Aunt Kathy

“ Dear Gerry and Patty, I am so sorry for your loss of your son Aaron. It is hard enough to try to put into words the emotions you are dealing with right now. But know that our Creator did not intend for us to deal with such illness and remember that He hates death: he even views it as an enemy. 1 Corinthians 15:26 He has a yearning to conquer that enemy, to undo death by means of the resurrection. He longs to bring back those who are in his memory and to see them live on earth again-Job 14:14,15. And for the meantime He heals the brokenhearted; He binds up their wounds. Psalms 147:3. So trust that He can comfort you.

“ I saw this posted on Facebook and had to express my condolences. My 6-year-old grandson was diagnosed with Type I Diabetes a little over a year ago, so this caught my attention. I also lost my son at 19 to another disease. He was also a PHHS alumni and would be 34 today. I cannot say that I know what you are going through because we all are different, but I know the experience is dreadful. I am so sorry for your loss. Your family is in my prayers.

“ Aaron was always such a great person to me and many others. I remember when I first found out that I had diabetes, he gave me such great support and encouragement to fight it. I will never forget that about him. May you rest in peace, Aaron.

“ I am also a juvenile diabetic and I worked with Aaron and befriended him at McDonald's in Pendleton. He was the sweetest guy. I've run into him a few times in recent years and it was as if no time has passed. I struggle daily with my own diabetes and I am deeply saddened that Aaron lost this fight. He will be so deeply missed by everyone that knew him. Rest in peace my friend. My love and sympathy to his family.

“ It seems like Aaron is involved in all of my fondest memories of my childhood. We grew up together, played together, fought our big brothers together. I will always remember Aaron as kind, creative, and hard working. He will always be an instrumental part of my cherished past. You are missed. Jon Stoner

“ Our Family was so sad to hear about Aaron's passing. He spent a lot of time here at our home. Kenny Downham is our son & he and Aaron were great friends. A lot of great memories to hold on too. My all of the Family remember all the Love and can find peace.

“ Much love to his family. I was a member of his graduating class and remember only the kindness this man always exuded. My life partner is diabetic and Aaron's lost battle with diabetes will not go unnoticed. It will serve as a reminder to help take better care of our bodies and also serves as an eye opener. Aaron was taken away from his loved ones too soon. He was still just a kid, as I still feel like a kid at 32. Live and love like it's your last day on earth. May you find peace in due time.
