“ Art was just a outstanding person who I always enjoyed having a conversation with on just about any subject. I have incredible respect for him and Pear sharing 69 years. That being said a man like Art is often known more for his work and lets just face it the man was an incredible craftsman who shared his respect of other fine craftsman. He has shared and taught those willing to listen and more importantly work at the trade. The qualities of Art are part of American history that seem to be disappearing from our country. Thinking of all the family and share in the missing of his friendship.
