“ Jeff & Kristi, My heart aches for you. I will never forget the images of Kristi pulling Austin & Alyssa in that little red wagon and Jeff walking along side as proud as can be. You are wonderful parents. Your children and parenting has brought great joy to the neighborhood. I feel very lucky to have known you for the last several years and to have you as neighbors now. Austin had to have known how much you loved him by the time you spent with him and his siblings. It is so refreshing to know a young couple that works so hard and takes such great care of their children. Please feel free to come over or call anytime. I love you both and wish you only the best.
