“ I spoke with my mother today and she shared with me that your mom had passed away this week. It has been many years since I've seen you and your mother, but I know you will truly miss her. She was the neatest mom growing up for sure, and I'm sure your entire life with her was the same. May you always have her in your heart.

“ Terry: So sorry about your mother. I remember her as being full of life and fun. Actually, a few days ago while looking for a fudge recipe I came across her hamburger steak recipe she had sent me years ago when we were in a recipe exchange and I thought of her and was thinking I would make the steaks over the weekend. Again, I am sorry for your loss. Dorinda
