SINCE

“ My husband, Shawn, and I are in Menards pretty much daily through our home improvement business, and Barb has always been at the top of our list for go-to cashiers. We always enjoyed visiting with Barb when we came in. She and Shawn were always harassing each other and creating a lot of laughter, including from those within earshot sometimes! We had developed a really great relationship with her over the years, and we were in absolute shock when word got to us on Sunday that she had passed. We would be there for the funeral today if we weren't out of state right now. Praying for her family and thinking about her Menards family today. We'll miss you, Barb...not gonna be the same without you.

“ *Too mant to count. She did so much for me raising me as a child.
But she was always home to me no matter where she lived. Our mothers are ALWAYS our home. She was more then excited to see her great grandchild to come into this world and I couldnt have been more greatful that she got to experience this. And I am more then eternally greatful that got to see my get off drugs and finally believed I am in a good enough place she wont have to worry about me anymore.*

I know she worried about you because that is what a mother does. I also know thru all of the anger, frustration, fear and hurt, as well as love , and joy she loved all of her children without exception. She was very proud that you turned your life around and yes she adored her grandchildren and her great grandson. We were always debating who Liam wanted to see more. I care a great deal for your mom and considered her to be a great friend. I will miss her tremendously
