“ I went to school with Brittany. She was one of the coolest people you could ever meet. Brittany and my sister Lindsey look a lot alike. One day we were hanging out at the public library and my mom went up to Brittany and told her to come on because we had to go home. My mom finally realized it wasn't Lindsey. I will miss Brittany forever. I LOVE YOU BRITTANY!

“ Brittany was one of the greatest friends i could ever have asked for. The first day we met, it wasn't the best..lol...now britt and i would just laugh about it. the next day she sat next to me during one of our classes, i thought great i hope we don't fight. It took her a minute, then she said hey you're that girl. Thats all she said, then we just started talking. We would write notes back to each other. I still have a note where she told me she like someone. It was so funny. Brittany told me when we went to kings island, i had to ride 1 ride wiht her. I thought i'd get to pick the ride, she had other plans. She picked Drop Zone. I was so scared! After i went on that ride i wasn't scared to go on any of the other rides. I love you Brittany, I will always miss, but i will see you one day. I love you Megg

“ i found this online and i think it says what i want to say.... I need to say goodbye although you\'re with me. I stand beside your grave, yet you are here. I miss you terribly and hope you miss me, But when I turn to you, you\'re always near. I talk to you as though you lived within me, Not changed but simply moved in from outside. I know each day you must a little leave me, But here, as always, you must be my guide. You were and are and will be, just as ever, In many minds and hearts, not only mine. No physical event can such love sever; Death is a dimension, not a line. And so goodbye does not mean you are gone: So long as I still love you, you live on.

“ Britt was and always will be one of my very best friends. Me and Brittany met at the start of our freshmen year and we had two classes together. The last time i saw Brittany and cory was on the 23rd of december.I had invited her over and we played games and hung out. we hadn\'t known each other that long but we were so close it was as if we had known each other for years.God works in mysterious ways and he let me see her one last time before she went home with him.I didnt know cory as well but we hung out at lunch and joked around all the time. Brittany and cory were amazing people. I think they were the sweetest most kindest people i have ever had the pleaser of knowing.they will always be forever in my heart. My prayers go out to their family and friends. I know britt and cory are up in heaven watcing over us now and it comforts me to know that we will meet in heaven again.

“ Mr.and Mrs. Boyle, Our family wanted to express our deepest sympathy. We briefly met Cory and Brittany on the 23rd of December. Brittany had came over to spend a few hours with Stephanie {our daughter}. We enjoyed having her over and getting to meet her. She was a delightful child with a big smile and a lot of laughter. We briefly met Cory when he came to pick her up. He was a wonderful young man and very polite. Our hearts grieve for the loss of your two children and for the pain this time has brought to your family. Your family is and will continue to be in our prayers. Our Church is praying for your family as well. May the Lord God comport you and give you Grace in your time of sorrow.

“ When Brittany first came to St. Mary's I hardly knew her but we automatically became friends. Soon we became BEST FRIENDS. It was like we'd known each other forever. She was such a good friend to me and ALWAYS knew how to make me smile. She had this energy that was so contagious and made everyone want to be around her. Brittany taught me so much. She saw the real me and loved me and showed me that I should always be myself no matter what. When we were together, we didn't care if anyone thought we were weird, we just had fun. Mrs. Boyle?thank you so much for bringing your daughter into this world. She is my best friend and my angel! She will always be in my heart! I am so sorry for your loss. Sarah?I just want you to know that Brittany looked up to you and loved you so much. If you ever need to talk just call me 642-6372.

“ To the family of Cory and Brittany. I went to Central with Brittany and Cory. I was in Brittany's world geography class, and I loved her to death. She always made me smile, she was so sweet and nice, she always had a smile on her face. I taled to her between first and second period, I was in her Speech and Debate coaches class and she would always ask me to hand her the permission forms for her to go to the meets, since the teacher normally wasnt in the room yet. I loved her so much and I hardly knew her. She was a beautiful person inside and out. I didn't know Cory, but I'd seen him in the hallways and at lunch, he always acted so nice. They will both be greatly missed, but they were greatly loved. My best wishes to the family, I'll see you both in Heaven someday. I love and miss you both!

“ To the family of Brittany & Cory, Our hearts break to hear of your devastating news. We lost our 15 year old son this past summer and know some of the pain you feel. By your children being at a church function it seems like your children were good children with the right priorities, and for that you can be thankful. Your family will be in our prayers.
