“ My sympathy to Uncle Bruce's family and friends for your loss. Thinking back, I only remember meeting him once although he was my mother's brother. I can sure see Grandma Effie in his face. I am sure he will be missed, but know he joins loved ones in Heaven. Nancy Barton Louise's daughter

“ I have very few memories with Uncle Bruce due to the fact that I was very young when I was around him but the memories I do have are very strong. My favorite memory was when Uncle Bruce and Aunt Erma came to visit us in TN. When they pulled up to the house they had the Airstream and I thought it was the best "house" ever! They only stayed a few days and I was upset when they left because I thought it was cool to just walk across the yard to go see them. He also made me believe that my pinky finger was stuck on to my hand very well when I was sure that it was falling off because of a cut I had on my finger. Heaven gained a great man but I know I'll see him again!

“ It was wonderful seeing Uncle Bruce at the family homestead in Illinois at Aunt Elaine's interment, especially hearing his "tall tales." Sad to see him go, but it is comforting to know he is now with his beloved Erma, parents, and friends.

“ Good-bye, Bruce. I think of the happy hellos when you crossed over, of reunions with Erma, Daddy and Mother, Elaine, old friends. So many memories come to me - you carrying your beloved dog, Rags, home from wherever you found him, us walking to the river to fish and never catching any, playing two-eyed-cat ball in the backyard, though I could never hit the thing, talking me into climbing on the barn roof, you and Elaine finding so many country kids adventures and brother/sister fights, me visiting you and Elaine in our country school before I was old enough to enroll and you making me giggle out loud so much I couldn't sit with you any more; you calling me on your anniversary to remind me that you and I were the only ones still living who attended your wedding to Erma in the tiny corner of Uncle Roy's front yard that was in the right Wayne County; seeing you for the last time at the site of our childhood home. Good-bye My Brother. Happy traveling. I love you. Louise Draper Colln

“ Uncle Bruce will certainly be missed. We were blessed to spend time with he and Beverly two years ago and he treated us to some of the marvelous rememberances of his childhood. No one could tell a story quite like Uncle Bruce. We will miss him but know he is with Aunt Erma in the presence of our Lord. Our deepest sympathy to Beverly, Ernest and their families.
