“ In high school me and Carrie was in a class called lighting crew and we were supposed to learn about how to do the spotlights during the pep rallies but I don't know if that teacher ever even taught us that. All I remember is sitting around goofing off and having a blast with everyone in class and our teacher just sit in the office he was a band teacher and let us do whatever we wanted we enjoyed it it was the best class ever. There's a couple pictures of us in class.
