“ I remember stopping by the house occasionally when I came back to visit my Mom. Mr. McDonald (I never called him Cecil) would always take time to talk to me. And growing up, your Mom would always feed us if we were around at lunch or dinner. Just know they are together now rejoicing in heaven.

“ My Brother in Christ is missed already. Just knowing that he is not on the porch whittling, or in the barn working with his hands, in the garden enjoying his surroundings. No matter what I found him doing, he always had time to stop and share part of his day. He was one of the few who truly enjoyed sharing what God was doing in his life and anxious to hear what God was doing in mine. As I spend tears, I know that there is a smile on your face as we have spoken of this day and the things we expected when it arrived. I will pray for your loved ones my friend, and I will always think of you with the fondest memories.

“ I met Cecil and Jeri when I was married the first time as my first husband worked with them a Nicholson File, spent a lot of time at there house and would listen to them play guitars and sing country music. We also took a trip with them to Livingston TN . Where they was from. Loved both of them
