“ Dad....words cannot express the emptiness and sadness I have felt over the years...but I just wanted to take this opportunity to tell you that I love you and thank you for bringing me into this world.I wish I could've gotten the chance to know you better .but what ever it was that kept us apart over these long years .I just want to say I FORGIVE YOU...I just want to say that you've taught me a great deal .more than you'll ever know .AND I HOPE you are finally at peace with god and with yourself.there is no more pain and no more suffering .I will always carry a part of you with me .I will never forget you .I love you dad .may you truly rest in peace .

“Dad, What can I possibly say? I have so much and don't even have an idea as to where I should begin. I've longed for you to be in my life for some time now...but I am truly my father's daughter and am as stubborn as the day is long. I've longed for the love a daughter should feel from her father unconditionally and undoubtedly. I wish we could have experienced that blessing. I hope you were given the peace you so much desired and your heart is no longer hurting because mine forever will. You helped make me, shape me, mold me...I am who I am in a large part to you. You would be proud of who I am today, the woman, wife and mother I've become. Not a day goes by that you aren't in my thoughts, not a day goes by that I don't feel the void...what I denied, I now can see. You have given my clarity. I thank you. I truly loved you....I did more than you could imagine. You'll always be with me...you are a part of me, forever. I LOVE YOU, DADDY. Rest in Peace, FOREVER!
