“ Grandpa, As I search for the colorful words that I would love to say about you, only simple thoughts have filled my paper: You will be missed. You will always be loved. You will always be remembered. Your absence will be felt in the silence that falls before the prayer at our family dinners. And I will never forget all that you have taught me over the years. I am glad that you are free of the sufferings of this world and can sing once again the hymns you so enjoyed in the most spectacular choir ever known. Through the years you have taught me that "His eye," truly, "is on the sparrow."
