Rest in Peace, Ms. Sunshine! Love how you cared for others! Your generous and caring spirit toward our granddaughters will not be forgotten! Glad we got to spend time with you and Don and your Momma in 2019. If there was a "B" in your name, I would dub it "Best Scrabble Player Ever! And when I join you in heaven, we must play a piano duet! --Aunt Sandy

“ *From the time you were a baby, you were a ray of sunshine. When you entered the room, you brightened it with your smile. It is hard to imagine the sunshine you brought is no longer here with us on earth; we w ill miss you and the sunshine you brought, Cindy. --

“ I was 14 when Cyndi was born. She was a beautiful blue eyed, blonde haired baby and that never changed. She was smart, energetic, full of fun with a smile that would light up the room. She was hospitable and I think she was happiest when she was making others happy, and boy could she play the puano. She had a large repositoire of jokes and was one of the wittiest people I've ever known. When we were together we often laughed until the tears came. I can see her big smile and see her running into her Dad's arms. She will be greeted by her grandparents, relatives she knew and thousands she had never met. But most of all, our loving Savior will welcome her into eternal joy.

“ I also met Cindy at Allegany. She was kind, friendly, and generous to everyone, old friends and new acquaintances. I remember the first year I met her, she made scarves for everyone who came, which was two or three dozen people; another year it was hats! My deepest sympathy goes out to everyone who treasured her as a part of their lives; I know she will be greatly missed.

“ Cindy was such a kind, caring, thoughtful person to everyone. She always asked about happenings in people's life with genuine interest and caring. Just being with Cindy you could feel the love pouring out.

What a great loss for everyone on earth and a great addition to heaven.

I am grateful to have shared a bit of her life at work.

“ I met Cynthia only a few times—at Anderson High School reunions and via Facebook communications—but I instantly liked her and appreciated her delightful nature and personality. My heart goes out to Don and the rest of her family and friends. She will be greatly missed.

“ It just isn't right to think of our earthly family without Cindy. She and I were more like friends than cousins during those young-girl-growing-up years. We rode our bikes for endless miles there in Kennewick, WA. We both moved all around the country in the last four decades but we got together whenever possible. The fact is, our hearts were always connected. I will see her again, maybe sooner than I can imagine, so my grief is not overwhelming. Right now I'm positive that she's hugging her Daddy tight and the two of them are strolling those golden streets in Heaven. It doesn't get any better than that. To be with the Lord. Thanking Jesus for His perfect salvation. No more trials and tribulations or pain-ridden bodies. Cindy reached the goal, won the race and she's truly filled with joy. See you soon, Cindy. I love you. - Beth

“ Cindy was a very special lady who loved helping anyone, not matter what. As a nurse she always went above and beyond. She offered to drive Pam and I to the Mayo Clinic in Minnesota when Pam was having liver issues. Cindy was always smiling and there was no job too tough for her. Cindy and Don always came to our high school lunches and reunions. She will be missed by everyone that knew her

Cindy and I used to go out and shop and have lunch and play all day. Then we'd rush home to arrive literally minutes before Don got home from work. She kept a gallon of bleach and two cups in the hall closet. Like a well oiled team, we'd each get a cup of bleach and pour it into the two bathroom toilets so the house smelled like bleach. Then Don would come in and ask "What have you girls been doing today? " And we would smile and say "cleaning." To this day, if I tell you I've been cleaning, it's still code for "up to no good."

Cindy, you lit up any room you were in. You left too soon but God has his own plan for us. I hope one day we'll laugh like nobody cared (Just like we used to). Love you always ❤️

I spent a summer with the miller's when I was 10 years old. Cindy was a very kind and caring 18 yr old young lady who had just graduated from high school. I will never forget the atmosphere of love that this family displayed. A normal family with the regular family trial and errors that most families have to endure. I remember Cindy's ability to find a solution for any hostilities or disagreements that periodically occurred. Thank you and your family Cindy!
