“ David was the brother I never had growing up. From as early as I can remember, until we moved to Texas, and a few summers even after we moved, we were together. When school was out I literally lived with him and uncle Dave. Some of my best memories were made with David, and I always tell people when I talk about him that he was more like a brother than a cousin. We didn't stay in touch over the years, and when we did run into each other on occasion, I would immediately flash back to the 70's when we were kids. Through all the years we just remained out of touch cousins, I still loved you like a brother. I hope you're at peace.
