“ My Aunt Donna was very independent, she loved to organize things. Much like my mother she loved to sketch and draw things. They both loved Detective magazines and stood by her children. She will be sorely missed as a loved member of the family. Death is a void; only time will give relief from our grief. However; I feel Donna and Frank are together again and are fishing and hunting together. This portal to the other side we all must pass through. I am sure heaven exists and they are there so rest easy.
