“ I remember going out to Indiana from New York to help DeJa move into her new home. There were long hours of packing and late dinners. I remember one night it was close to 10 pm and we were extremely tired so we stopped at Dairy Queen & took it back to the house. We don't have a Dairy Queen close to us in NY but when my sister goes there she always made it a point to call me from DQ and rub it in my nose. I told DeJa the story and she said call her and tell her you went to Dairy Queen and say "Nana Nana Boo Boo". So I put my phone down on the kitchen table and put it on speaker & called her. When she picked up the first thing I said was guess what I am eating and right out of the gate she said Dairy Queen.....WHAT!!!!!!! how did she know that!!!! Anyway we all got a big laugh out of it and as I was eating I was starting to fall asleep. Pretty soon DeJa started laughing and laughing and laughing and she had tears in her eyes and running down her cheeks and started to snort a little. Well that got me going and my sister too. This went on for several minutes of non stop laughing and snorting, me included. Well, what was so funny was, every time I would talk to my sister I kept leaning into my vanilla shake and talking to her. I never lived that down. One year DeJa sent a DQ cup with a straw in it with cotton balls glued to it to my sister and it had a note that said just in case you want to talk to your sister. What a HOOT!!!!!! She's my best friend, a precious gem, one of a kind, a beautiful soul, has shoes NO ONE will ever be able to fill and a HEART OF GOLD. There is a huge hole in my heart but it will be filled we meet again.....I LOVE YOU TODAY, TOMORROW FOREVER AND EVER AND TO THE MOON AND BACK. MISS YOU AND LOVE YOU!!!!!!
