“ I have just found out of his passing. We were always good friends growing up. He was always so fun and liked to make people laugh. It saddens me to know this happened. As life goes on and we move on from things, most people only remember a handful of really good friends throughout their stages in life, and Dustin always has and will be one of those people. You all may not remember me, but to his parents Mark and Kim, and also Zach and Kirby, he is with you always. Getting to the age we have gotten to, life tends to have a deeper meaning than when you are in your preteen years, but my heart is with you. I will forever remember how good of a skate boarder her was and how much more fun life was, when he was around. My deepest condolences... Trent Hamilton
