

Elora Mai Stringer

April 24, 1927 - April 30, 2020

Elora Mai Stringer, April 24, 1927-April 30, 2020, born in Monterey, Tennessee, foothills of the Cumberland Mountains. She was pretty, smart, creative and fierce...she was like a hummingbird on speed. She loved her only child, Maleah Stringer unconditionally, animals, and her Tennessee mountains. She retired from the Anderson Public Library. She was an avid gardener and some thought she could put a dead stick in water and it would grow. You are finally free and at peace...soar with the angels.

If you would like to honor her memory, donations may be made to the Animal Protection League online, www.inapl.org or send checks to APL 613 Dewey St Anderson Indiana 46016.

Or plant a tree and flowers.

www.loosecares.com.

Tribute Wall

AL

“ Elora was such a beautiful person. I loved to listen to her stories. She was kind, loved her family, and I'm so glad we at Providence had the privilege to know, care for and love her. So sorry for your loss...

Alison - May 09, 2020 at 11:32 PM

PB

“ I remember when she was shampooing for us. She was soo energetic and spunky. She ran the other fat lazy shampoo girl right out of there. She was great ☐

paula brandon - May 07, 2020 at 07:24 AM

“ Juanita Carrender lit a candle in memory of Elora Mai Stringer

Juanita Carrender - May 03, 2020 at 08:16 PM

Thoughts and prayers are with you Maleah at this difficult time, I to have lost my Mother and I know how hard this time in your life is. May she rest in peace and know her spirit is with you always.

Juanita Carrender - May 03, 2020 at 08:19 PM

EP

“ Maleah, I remember your mom as smart and feisty, a ball of energy, with a big heart. You have experienced what I fear the most right now, and your inner strength shows your heart for others. I'm sure that your mom helped you with that. Tears for now, but she is well and rejoicing in heaven. ❤️

Erin Parrish - May 03, 2020 at 12:42 PM