“ It's been a while ago now but we used to spend a lot of weekends together. One of those would be to celebrate our birthdays which were on the same day. Festivities usually required drink to sooth the beating Melissa and I would put on my wife and Jason at Rummy. This one time in particular we had to make a run to CVS to get the drinks. When I went to pay for them, we discovered my license expired that day. Luckily Jason was there so he could pay for it, or so we thought. His license expired that day as well... With that, the birthday boys went back home to do guy stuff like watch the children while the ladies went back into town for the goodies.

I'm sorry he had to leave so soon but glad to be fortunate enough to have been able to make some memories with him while he was here.

“ I will always remember Jason at Halloween. He would bring the kids to trick or treat and would expect a goody bag for himself. I told him he was not in costume and would not get one. After that he always came in costume. A great family man, played with kids like another kid.

“ Jason was a good friend and co-worker for over a decade. His witty sarcasm was often injected into some serious conversations and brought humor and smiles to all. I was fortunate to share some of his life events during those years and get to know how much he cared about his family - he loved you all so much. I am so sorry for your loss. Please accept my sincere condolences.
