“ Uncle Jack was a special man. I spent a considerable amount of time with them when I was a young child before they had children of their own. Though our lives took us on different paths, I never forgot the time that I spent with them. Then to have him as my teacher when I began the apprenticeship program at Guide was another thrill. the thing I remember most when we would gather for a family get-together was when he would tell maybe a little funny story not a bad one, his face would get red. He was a good man.
I will miss him. Even as dementia was setting in I could tell he knew me...it might have taken him a minute but then I would see that gleam in his eye and I knew he knew me.
