“ To Beverly Seffrin, Mr. Bennett's daughter Dear Bev, Please accept both my sympathies and my tribute to your father's long and productive life. It touched me to read about his weekly breakfasts with dearly loved cousins. My image is of them meeting at the Lemon Drop, which he helped build - a fact that just amazes me, or Frisch's Big Boy or some other agreeable Anderson, Indiana gathering place - eating, drinking coffee and interacting in that Hoosier way where the affection appears, not in the words, but between the sentences, in the pauses and in the body language. Looking at your dad's picture, it looks as if his love poured out through that smile. It's an image that is familiar to me because it's my Hoosier family as well. Since learning of our shared heritage, I've felt a special connection with you. I feel it even stronger now as I share in your sorrow and in celebrating your father's life. When the time is right for you, please let me know when you're ready to meet for lunch or, - in honor of your father - maybe breakfast? Take care and please know that you are in my thoughts. Sincerely, Katherine
