“Lindy is my Mammaw. She was known for "biting baby butts" and taking an hour just to do her eyebrows, let alone her whole face. It's little memories like that, that made her the super hero she was. Even now, I can almost hear her tell me not to cry and that it'll be okay.

“Lindy as we knew her was one of my "older cousins" I can say; and can always remember her coming to the BAUGH get togethers at the park in Martinsville. Lost track of her for several years and was so glad I made and got back in contact with her. As you know us Baughs even tho we are spread out living here and there always somehow manage to reconnect our lives together. My thoughts and prayers to you her kids and her sisters and brother during this time. Rest now in peace and healing has now taken place Lindy!

*Love from your cousin in Martinsville

“ Lindy was my oldest sister and my idol when we were kids. We had many wonderful times together as adults. I used to stay with here when Tammy, Ed and Shannon were babies. I went to a Florida one time and stayed with her and Fred for 2 weeks. We had such a good time. After Fred passed away Lindy called me and ask if I had a suitcase. I said yes and she said pack for a week. We hit the road we went from Ohio to Branson, Mo and travel across a. number of states. We ended up visiting Shannon in NC and finally ending up back home. We laughed and ate and had a BLAST. I'm really going to miss my Sister. Rest well Sweet Lindy....I love you

“ I have wonderful memories of Lindy....many years ago, Jerry and I had wonderful times with her and Fred....we spent time with them in Florida also....Lindy lived upstairs in our apartment for awhile, and we became close friends with her and her children...she was a wonderful, friendly person...R.I.P. Lindy....I know right now she is completely pain free, and happy! I'm sure her and Jerry are having good conversations:-))

I remember Lindy & Fred coming to our house on John St in Lapel. Fred & my mom would "cut a rug" on the dance floor in the living room while Lindy sang & played the accordion. FUN TIMES!!!
