“ I met Marvin when I was about 12. He provided good instruction on weight lifting that has served me very well for the 50 years since. Today I have a healthy strong back, which I primarily attribute to his guidance. As my uncle later on in life, he and Betty always had kind, positive words for me. Their home was always a welcoming place of comfort and happiness. Marvin was a man worth knowing and those that did appreciated his values and words. Gonna miss the man, but cherish the memories.
