June 16, 1915 - December 10, 2007

Pendleton - Mavis D. Gustin Vail, 92, Pendleton, died December 10, 2007 at Rawlins House, Pendleton after a brief illness. She was born June 16, 1915 in Vellford, AK, and resided in Anderson most of her adult life. Mavis worked at Delco Remy Division of General Motors, a short time at Sears, and also taught ceramics and procelain china painting. She was a member of U.A.W. Local #662, Senior Citizen's Craft Club, Raintree Porcelain Artists, International Porcelain Artist Association and World Organization of Porcelain Artists. She is survived by her two sons, Alfred James Vail & Philip Dean Vail; brother, Dr. Gordon & wife, Wanda Gustin; eight grandchildren; several nieces and nephews; mentors, Jack & Jan Rager & Frances Laylon; friends, Rosemary Isom, Mr. & Mrs. Richard Summers; and dear friends of the Indiana Porcelain Artists Guild and the Organ Group from Music Today. Mavis will be missed by her beloved extended family at Rawlins House in Pendleton. The family expresses most gracious appreciation to her caregivers during her stay. She was preceded in death by her husband, Philip John Vail, in 1969; her parents, Alonzo Morris Gustin & Clifton Harrell Huntzinger; brothers, Roy Moore, Sr. & infant brother, Harrell Gustin; and dear friend, Fred Eisenbise. Mavis' wishes were to have no services. Her remains will be blessed by her friend and chaplain, Paul Hughes, and placed at the point at Pittsburg State, where the Monongahela & Allegheny meet so she may travel the world. Memorial contributions may be made to the homeless or needy through the Anderson Christian Center or Operations Love. www.
