“ I am so sad for my family that will miss their mom, sister, grandmother, great grandmother, and aunt, however, I find peace in imaging the heavenly reunion that took place on November 7th. I know Aunt Nancy transitioned into her new life with the help of so many family members that have passed before her. I will always remember her laughter and her smile. I pray that all who love her will find peace in knowing that she is finally reunited with so many loved ones in a brand new body that no longer suffers from dementia.

I love you all, Genia Taylor Caldwell
