“ There is so much that I cherish about my Aunt Reba: her “can do” spirit, generous heart, mirth and mischief, and her special gift for making others feel so special. The saying, “there are no strangers, only friends you haven’t met” could have been her motto. She gathered people to her—family, friends, friends-of-friends, coworkers, and the person in line with her at the grocery store. She engaged others with genuine interest and unbridled enthusiasm. Any time I saw her or we spoke by phone, she made me feel so special—when in fact, it is SHE who was. I will miss you Reba, and will never forget you or your love.
