“ Robert invented cool. I knew him my entire life, because we grew up together in the same neighborhood. He always had a the most over the top leather jackets. The jacket that stands out in my mind, is the white one with skulls on the buttons. It blew my mind, he was so cool and such an awesome friend. I'm sad to say that as an adult I didn't see him often. I will never forgive myself for that. Meet you again, I know not when... Sleep well my beautiful friend.
