“ I send my warmest sympathies to Robbie's family. This is trully a tragic loss. I grieve for Robbie for two reasons. I am an Army wife and the loss of any soldier is felt throughout the entire military community. But mostly because I had the pleasure of knowing Robbie from the age of five, having attended every year of school with him. I lived just around the corner from his dad's and we grew up together - often playing on the jungle gym or swings at the Meadowbrook school's playground. He was always so friendly and full of life. The last time I saw Robbie was 10 years ago in a rather odd encounter. I bumped into him on the streets of Waikiki - both Robbie and my husband were stationed in Hawaii at the time. He was proud to be serving as a Marine there. May God bless all of you at this very difficult time!
