“ I haven't seen Steve for over 60 years but I can still see his face and remember his personality which was great. We were in High School together for 3 years and brief contact after while I still lived in Anderson. The closer you get to the end of your life the more you recall the good times earlier, remembering those times more vividly than what happen last week. Steve's passing has reminded me of those times. It was a pleasure to have known him.
