“ Steve was a best friend -- we had known each other for 60 years. We shared many great experiences , good times and bad times -- even got into "mischief". We learn how to smoke cigarettes (of course at that time it was cool); learned to drink beer; learned about girls. We even ran away from home together (we went for a joy ride in my sisters car when we were about 15; got caught by local police and decided that we better run away from home rather than face our parents -- needless to say we did not make it very far).

He named me Godfather to Steve and Gina and was the best man at my wedding over 52 years ago.

Thank heaven we had a chance to get together a couple of years ago in Tn -- have a few beers and talk about the good old days. I will miss you buddy. Love you -- DeWayne
