“ I was sad to see Susie's obituary this morning. She had been on my mind the last few days--now I know why. Last night I had just practiced my ASL alphabet which she taught me when I was caring for her through Home Instead this spring. I am glad she was with her family and is now home with God. She blessed the lives of all who knew her and was a great inspiration to me as she met life's challenges. I pray that her memorial services and your friends and loved ones will bring you continued support and comfort in the days and months ahead.
