“Our beloved grandmother Grandma Carroll has passed away and the loss that we feel is great and hard to describe. We will always treasure our memories of her and will always keep her close to our hearts as we try to carry on without her. Sundays will always be hard for us as that was the day that we would call her each week to see how she was doing and to share stories about the previous and upcoming weeks. She would always say ?keep me posted?, which is what we tried to do each week during our calls. She has given us many treasures that we will keep as a reminder of her. Although she is no longer with us in body, she will remain with us forever in spirit. We miss you grandma and wish that you could have met your new little great great granddaughter, Azrael. We will love you forever and will never forget how important you were to us while you were with us.
