“ Grandma,
I want you to know that I already miss you, but I am relieved that you are ok now. I know that you are pain free, worry free, and in heaven catching up with passed family members. I remember in the hospital you said that you hope we are proud of you... and Ofcourse we are. You were the strongest, most hard working person I had ever known. I will always remember your cute smile and your wonderful story telling. I am so lucky to have been able to spend so much time with you.
I hope that in heaven they can make you those strawberry-banana smoothies you like so much (I'm sure they are better than the ones I used to bring you from McDonald's. ;))
Anyways, I love you grandma and I will never forget you.
Love,
Brittney.

“ *My beautiful momma.i can't even tell you what all this woman was .she had the best heart for everyone.No matter where we lived growing up she would always get to know all of our neighbors .when ever one got sick she would cook and bring them food.Every Sunday she would cook great big meals and invite all of her kids friends over to eat Sunday dinner.She taught me how to be the best person I could be to everyone.I remember the day I introduced my husband Jerry Courtney to her.She said Honey I know he is eight years older then you but I know in my heart he will be the best husband and father to your children someday.she loved knowing she was right.she would always tell me every year that went by see honey I knew he would be so good to you and what a great father he was to our children.She loved him like her own son.I held your hand when you passed momma and one day I will hold your hand again and walk beside you in heaven.I love and miss you so much.You are my Angel now momma watching over me .I promise you I will still make you proud of me until it's my time to be with you.Love you Momma,
Your daughter Trudi*

“Momma, it's your youngest, Erik. Mom what can I tell you , when I was a little boy, you held my hand, taught me right from wrong. And taught me so many important life lessons. You were always there to guide me and support me even if it wasn't a perfect decision, you would smile and say "well honey this is what I would do." I learned from a young age how beautiful a person you were . You helped our neighbors when they were ill cooked so many meals for them. Cared for the sick neighbors. And one thing I can say is you always smiled and you had a beautiful one. I will never forget all you have done for me Momma you gave me life, taught me so much. And I'm proud to say I turned out ok momma. I hope your proud. I love you so much. Heaven definitely got a kind, patient, loving Angel to watch over us and I hope others. Save a spot for me Momma. Til I meet you again. I can't wait to hold your hand and see that gleam in your eyes. And see you smile and say how's my boy doing?" Love you mom, I miss you so much. ❤️

Vera was my last living Aunt, I have been trying to find her and was crushed to find out she was right here. The last I was told she was in Florida with her son. So sad that I did not get to see her before her passing. The last time I seen her was at aunt Mary' funeral. I will always remember he as my fun aunt, as a child she always kept us laughing, entertaining us with her dancing and wild stories. My heart goes out to all her children she will be missed.

“ I miss you so much grandma and I'm truly blessed to have had 29 years with you. I know you are up in heaven causing all kinds of trouble ;). The majority of my childhood memories are filled with you and your kind, loving, spunky, ornery personality. There truly wasn't anything you wouldn't do for me. As I got older you became the person I could tell anything to without judgement and you never ceased to amaze me with your kindness and compliments. You could make anyone feel like they were the most important person in the world. Thank you for 29 years of guidance, wisdom, love, and life lessons. Until we meet again please watch over all of us. I look forward to seeing your gorgeous face when the time comes. I love you with all of my heart!
