“ No one in Willadean's family will know who I am, but would like to give my condolences to her children and rest of the family. We were best friends from age 3 or 4 until we married our husbands and drifted apart. Our childhoods were filled with fun and fantasies. We made up lots of stories, one being when we grew up we were going to be detectives in New York City!. If we would just have had time to reminisce about the old times, it would have been great! I hope each of you will keep dear friends close. I wish we had kept our friendship going forever. She will always live in my heart. Forever, "Sisters", Donna Bowers Nicely
