“ His funny outgoing attitude is what's going to make me miss him I met Willard going down to auto farm new castle I was in search of a truck he was so sure He wouldn't be able to put me in one but he never gave up on trying! It was his attitude and humor that got me to like him instantly! Few months later I went in to trade the truck in to hear about the tragedy it's like it hit me like a ton of bricks even tho I didn't know him personally he made that much of an impact I told the woman then and there I wasn't worried about trading the truck off! Auto farm definitely isn't going to be the same 😭

“ What a shock to see this news on Facebook. I send my deepest sympathies to Willard's closest family and all the friends and people who knew and loved him. Also many prayers.

I've known Willard a long time. He was my very first manager at my first job at Pay-Less in 1989 which used to be where Marco's pizza is now. He was a good manager.

Also, I doubt if too many people know this but Willard saved my life once. It was shortly after my young daughter Amanda was murdered, probably 2007 or 2008. One night I was reeling in grief. I apparently blacked out while driving, I was visibly upset. Willard saw me crying and probably swerving all over Scatterfield Rd. and rolled down his window, yelled my name, got my attention, and said, "Follow Me!". Thankfully it was right down the road from my home. He lead me home where someone in my family could help me calm down.

That smile and contagious exuberant spirit was really something special. He will be sorely missed by so many.
